Max complaints from F-North and H-West need constant vigil

SHEFALI PARAB PANDIT
Mumbai

In its drive against illegal hoardings, the Free Press Journal has received the maximum number of complaints from F-North (Sion, Matunga, Wadala) and H-West (Khar and Bandra West) wards. Civic officials assured that the action is being taken on a regular basis, and that a designated team keeps a continuous vigil in these areas.

The BMC's license department takes action against illegal hoardings defacing the city. The civic body annually removes around 15,000 to 20,000 such hoardings and banners. Of these, 45 per cent are either for festivities or to convey birthday wishes to a political leader. The

The Free Press Journal has joined hands with the Mumbai North Central District Forum, a citizen-led organisation, to report every single illegal hoarding. West) Vinayak Vispute a dedicated team from the licence department takes action in his ward twice a week. "The team comprises two inspectors, a lorry and four to five personnel. Extra vigil is kept during the festive season, but it's a never-ending story so action is a continuous process," he said.

A senior civic official of the licence department said, "Political party workers install illegal hoardings but it's difficult to say who all are involved. We can only remove the structures on complaints against the person whose name is on the hoarding under the Prevention of Defacement of Property Act, 1995."

As per the Act, a person can be fined Rs 2,000 or face three-month imprisonment, or both. An offender can also be penalised under the Mumbai Municipal Corporation Act and fined between Rs 1,000 and Rs 5,000.

number of illegal hoardings increases during the festive season.

Assistant municipal commissioner (F-North) Gajanan Bellale said, "Our patrol team inspects the ward every morning. In the past one year, we have removed over 5,000 hoardings and banners and have filed FIR against five." As per assistant municipal commissioner (H-

Nahur railway station

Village Road, Bhandup

Samaritans say...

“If the BMC would have laid an emphasis on its regulations then these banners and hoardings would have been less in number. Most politicians don't follow the rules. The action taken by the BMC is only to remove illegal hoardings, which is not sufficient. If we want to make errants follow the rules, then there should be some penalty levied on them.”
Madhu Poplai, Pali hill resident associated chairperson

“The BMC's action is a mere formality. Most of them are not following the High Court's order. The rules are flouted by everyone, especially political parties. Even if the BMC is claiming to be taking regular action, we can still see the illegal hoardings in Santacruz, Khar and Bandra. Just the removal action won't help to curb the menace of illegal hoardings.”

A campaign by the Free Press Journal to clear our skyline of illegal hoardings.

The politicians have fooled us yet again and it is time we the citizens redress our city. The rampant political hoardings dotting our streets and ruining our skyline are becoming intolerable. Despite a directive by the Bombay High Court in Jan 2017 to remove illegal hoardings, you can still see the opposites in every nook and corner of the city.

The court had instructed the Maharashtra government that the implementation of provisions of municipal laws should be done at the level of every ward. The state was also asked to appoint a secretary to monitor and supervise the implementation of the court's directives.

Yet hoardings of political parties have become ubiquitous across Mumbai. Just recently, the BMC removed 1,700 illegal hoardings in a special 10-day drive.

According to BMC data, 28,677 illegal hoardings were removed across the city last year. But is this enough? It is time we step in and ensure the BMC removes every single illegal hoarding in the city.

The Journal is joining hands with the Mumbai North Central District Forum, a citizen-led organisation, to report every single illegal hoarding. We urge you, dear reader, as a resident of this great city, to join us in this campaign. Send us picture of illegal hoardings and tag us on social media, or scan the QR code below to fill a form and we will ensure the hoardings are removed. Your identity, we assure, will not be revealed. You can cut and keep this announcement if you need the QR code to be easily available. Or you can find it from our website freepressjournal.in

#StopDefacingMumbai: Bombay HC seeks to take recommended steps against illegal hoardings

Illegal hoardings: HC bats for stricter rules, penalty

The nodal committee seeks amendment to the BMC Act and designated spaces for displays

SPM MUMBAI/Mumbai

The Bombay High Court on Thursday asked the Maharashtra government to take steps for implementing the nodal committee's recommendations to tackle the menace of illegal hoardings. One of the important suggestions made was to amend the Maharashtra Municipal Corporation's (BMC) Act to make provisions for stricter penalties.

A division bench of Chief Justice Dipankar Datta and Justice MS Karolik was hearing a batch of public interest litigation (PIL) on the issue of illegal banners, hoardings and posters put up by political parties across the state, which according to the plea, defaced public places. In 2016, the HC had directed the state government and all municipal corporations to ensure that no illegal hoardings are put up in public places.

Additional government pleader Bhagesh Samant informed the bench that the nodal committee held a meeting on Wednesday in which it deliberated upon the suggestions, submitted by petitioners, to tackle the menace of illegal hoardings. The committee then also stated this recommendation and forwarded it to the government for further action, said Samant. Besides the idea of amending the BMC Act, other recommendations include putting up hoardings in designated places. List of these spots should be made available to all concerned to the BMC and the police can easily identify illegal hoardings.

Also, the committee has recommended that a central database be maintained by local bodies giving real time updates regarding permissions granted for putting up hoardings. Another plea was to put up a QR code on hoardings, which would easily provide detection who has put up the hoardings, for how many days it has been allowed, etc.

The committee unanimously decided not to include the suggestion of appointing private vehicles to remove illegal hoardings, just like private towing vans are allowed to tow away wrongly parked vehicles. The committee felt that this should be done by the BMC with the help of police.

The HC said it will pass a detailed order in the matter and asked the government to take steps to per the recommendations to the municipality.
